The British Bull Dog 168

Together downstairs. Room to retreat upstairs.

The British Bulldog 168 makes clever use of two levels to give family life room to unfold. Downstairs, the kitchen with walk-in pantry opens to the dining and living areas, with the alfresco just beyond for easy indoor-outdoor living. A powder room, dedicated laundry and under-stair storage add everyday practicality, while the single garage and welcoming porch complete the ground floor.

Upstairs, four bedrooms are grouped around the family bathroom and central stair void. The main bedroom has its own walk-in robe and ensuite, while the remaining bedrooms each include a robe. It's a thoughtful layout that brings shared spaces together downstairs and gives everyone a comfortable place to retreat.
